

Spc. Darryl T. Dent

Age: 21
Hometown: Washington, DC
Date of Death: 8/26/2003
Incident Location: Ramadi, Iraq

Branch of Military: Army
Rank: Spc.
Unit: 547th Transportation Company, U.S. Army National Guard
Unit's Base: Washington, D.C.

Spc. Darryl Dent was a goal-oriented person who got things done _ and had a good time doing them. "Most of the time he was happy, and when he wasn't happy you wouldn't know it because he was always trying to make sure that everybody else was happy," said his sister, Lisa Justice of Roanoke Rapids, N.C. "He was trying to keep the peace all the time." Dent, 21, a National Guard member based in Washington, D.C., was killed Aug. 26 by a makeshift explosive device while on convoy duty in Iraq. Vernon Dent said his son joined the Guard right out of high school and wanted to go to medical school. He spoke to his son a few weeks before, and the soldier said he was ready to come home. "That's my baby boy. A good kid. It really hurt me," the father said.

Lt. Col. Paul W. Kimbrough

Age: 44
Hometown: Washington, DC
Date of Death: 10/3/2003
Incident Location: N/A

Branch of Military: Army
Rank: Lt. Col.
Unit: 416th Engineer Command, Team 28, U.S. Army Reserve
Unit's Base:

Incident: Died of a heart attack in a hospital in Turkey after being evacuated from Bagram, Afghanistan.

Lance Cpl. Gregory E. MacDonald

Age: 29
Hometown: Washington, DC
Date of Death: 6/25/2003
Incident Location: Iraq

Branch of Military: Marines
Rank: Lance Cpl.
Unit: Bravo Company, 4th Light Armored Reconnaissance Battalion
Unit's Base: Frederick, Md.

Lance Cpl. Gregory MacDonald loved books and classical guitar, and studied philosophy as a He earned his master's degree at American University in 2001, with an eye toward a career affairs. To him, serving in the military was a way to gain credibility and experience in the fie do foreign policy work, and he wanted to do it for the Middle East, and he wanted to create Middle East," said Jeni Spevak, one of his closest friends. MacDonald, 29, of Washington, D. a vehicle accident in Iraq. He and six other Marines were traveling to help a U.S. unit under road's shoulder gave out. For his brother Matt MacDonald, there was at least some comfort died. "He died doing something meaningful," the brother said. "He was going to aid other s

(SOURCE: ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Maj. Kevin M. Shea

Age: 38
Hometown: Washington, DC
Date of Death: 9/14/2004
Incident Location: Anbar province, Iraq

Branch of Military: Marines
Rank: Maj.
Unit: 1st Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division, I Marine Expeditionary Force
Unit's Base: Camp Pendleton, Calif.

A month before he died, Kevin M. Shea was nominated for a Bronze Star with Valor. He never told his family. "That goes to his character, how modest he was," said Shea's brother, Dan. Shea, 38, of Washington, D.C., died Sept. 14 by rocket fire near Fallujah. He was based at Camp Pendleton. Shea graduated from the U.S. Air Force Academy in 1989. While at the academy, he lettered in football, played in the 1987 Freedom Bowl and was a member of the academy's rugby team, which won the collegiate national championship his final year. Shea, who grew up in Seattle, fought in the first Gulf War, and taught and coached rugby at the U.S. Naval Academy. He was so well-liked among students that he was voted an honorary member of the class of 2003. He earned a master of science degree in electrical engineering at the Naval Postgraduate School in California. "He started out as a pudgy freckle-faced kid and worked his way into a giant with hard work," said friend Joe Bundrant. "Kevin was special. Strong and powerful, a tender warrior." Shea is survived by his wife, Ami, and two children, ages 10 and 7.

Sgt. 1st Class Randy L. Johnson

Age: 34

Hometown: Washington, D.C.

Date of Death: 9/27/2007

Incident Location: Baghdad, Iraq

Branch of Military: Army

Rank: Sgt. 1st Class

Unit: 2nd Squadron, 2nd
Stryker Cavalry
Regiment

Unit's Base: Vilseck, Germany

Incident: Killed when a makeshift bomb detonated near his vehicle in Baghdad. Sgt. 1st Class Johnson, 34, was on his third tour in Iraq, commanding a Bradley Fighting Vehicle unit in Baghdad, when a roadside bomb detonated near his vehicle Sept. 27, killing him.

Capt. Darrell Lewis

Age: 31

Hometown: Washington, DC

Date of Death: 6/23/2007

Incident Location: Vashir City,
Afghanistan

Branch of Military: Army

Rank: Capt.

Unit: 1st Brigade, 1st
Infantry Division

Unit's Base: Fort Riley, KS

-- Capt. Darrell C. Lewis, 31, died of wounds sustained when his unit was attacked by insurgents using rocket-propelled grenades, mortars and small arms fire June 23 in Vashir City, Afghanistan. Lewis was a mobilized Army Reserve air defense artillery officer serving on a transition team assigned to 1st Brigade, 1st Infantry Division. His home of record is Washington D.C. He entered the Army Reserve in June 2002 and deployed with the 1st Inf. Div. transition team in January 2007. This was his first deployment in support of the Global War on Terrorism.

Spc. Keisha M. Morgan

Age: 25

Hometown: Washington

Date of Death: 2/22/2008

Incident Location: Baghdad, Iraq

Branch of Military: Army

Rank: Spc.

Unit: Division Special
Troops Battalion, 4th
Infantry Division

Unit's Base: Fort Hood, Texas

Incident: Died of a non-combat related cause.

USAF Airman 1st Class Jerome Miller Jr.

23-year-old USAF Airman 1st Class Jerome D. Miller Jr., from Washington, D.C. died in Parwan province on 13th October 2011 due to a non-combat related incident.

Afc. Miller served with the 459th Security Forces Squadron, based at Andrews Air Force Base.